Excerpt: . . . WISCONSIN JOURNAL OF EDUCATION. VOL. XII. JANUARY, 1882. NO. I. UNGRADED DEPARTMENTS IN GRADED SYSTEMS. PROT. A. A. MILLEK, WAUKBISHA. (A Paper read before the Wisconsin Teachers Association in Madison, December 28, 1881.) It was justly remarked at the summer meeting of the Association, in a paper on a subject kindred to this, that this seems to be a question that will allow every man to ride his own hobby. The writer omitted to state what is equally true of the subject: that a little practical knowledge of an ungraded department, founded on experience, will most likely unhorse the rider and demolish his hobby. A chief criticism on the graded system of schools is that it is inflexible. Children are poured in at the hopper of the primary department, and the few who survive the grinding ordeal are turned out at the spout of the high school. The criticism is a just one. Every principal of a graded school knows that his school must be run to suit the wants of the average ability, and that the brightest pupils are held back and the backward ones prodded onward, until the interest of the one dies of inanition, while that of the other perishes from chronic indigestion. To suggest a relief for the first class is not within the province of this paper. The ungraded department is the result of an attempt to do something for the backward boys and girls of our graded...
