Cameron, RE., recorded at the Ordnance Map Office, Southampton, have been substituted, his own barometer having been out of order. The author having found that the mean temperature derived from the 9 A.m., 3 P.m., and 9 P.m. observations indiscriminately, agreed fairly, after the application of corrections for daily range with that deduced from mean of max.-f mean of min., . ., --a monthly correction used in the Greenwich observations has discontinued the two later daily observations for the last three years, as mean results were all that he aimed at; and after having tested his results by various comparisons, he feels fully persuaded that the mean state of the atmosphere, as regards pressure, temperature, and moisture,...
