Body well nourished. Sores on buttocks and on right flank just above middle of iliac crest. The margins are irregular, bluish in colour, edges shelving. The ulcerations are comparatively superficial, reaching only about as far as the deeper layers of the epidermis. The area of skin involved would be about 3 square inches. On opening the abdomen several teaspoonfuls of viscid slimy brownish fluid were found between spleen, stomach, and transverse colon. There is no trace of peritonitis. On removing the gastro-intestinal tract two ulcers are found on the posterior aspect of the duodenum: one of these, measuring by Ts inch, lies quite close to pylorus; the other, Ts by is, is about half an inch from the ring. The former is a clean punched-out hole, and involves all the coats of the intestine. Its internal circumference is a little...
